This book of encouragement, is written as a love letter back to the Lord, praising Him for all He s brought the author through. She s the daughter of a prescription drug addict and alcoholic. Having survived a traumatic brain injury from carbon monoxide poisoning, the author leads a God-glorifying life. God s love for us is intentional as are our trials and hurts. They re not mistakes to Him. He may not move your mountain and He may even allow a larger one, but He ll walk the path with you if you let Him. So, just begin with one step or one breath. No matter what He puts in your path, no matter what season you re in, joy or weeping, He doesn t forsake His children, so find Him in each season. Let Him support you, let His grace break your fall. You may have been slowly turned or vigorously thrown by the storms of life but you re still usable bent or broken, beautiful or tangled. If you ve lost your trust in Him, you feel broken and helpless; you re drowning, over your head in despair, in need of just one more breath, this books for you. It ll bring hope to those recovering, those still fighting, and those just breathing. With my last breath, I d say I Love You.
