We did buy Durum at that price and we stand ready to buy Durum and to pay that price. The Chairman. But why could you not get Durum when there was no premium on Durum, while you did get the other hard varieties when there was a premium? Mr. Barnes. No; we did not get the hard varieties. The Chairman. You got the milling wheat, a variety that was not Durum wheat, did you not? Mr. Barnes. We took at those prices whatever they wanted to sell us--the trade--and paid no more for Northern Spring wheat or any other variety than the price. The fact is that there are other buyers who do pay more; therefore we get nothing. The Chairman. What grades of wheat have...
