The Swiss peasant is, to my mmd, the hardest worked and poorest paid laborer in Europe. His crop of hay, secured for the sustenance of the goats whereby the supply of Sweitzerkase is perpetuated, is packed in bundles and carried on the head, uphill and down, and often a long distance to the goat shed. By reason of the shortness of the season and the sterility of the soil, but a meager crop is secured. Hay in Kansas, marketed under the same circumstances, would be worth, I imagine, about ninety-eight dollars a ton. It is truly pitiable to see these hard-worked, under-paid and under-fed people in...
