

Regional strategy for strengthening the role of the health sector for improving Civil Registration and Vital Statistics (CRVS) (2015-2024) (Paperback)

By World Health Organization: Regional Office for South-East Asia

WHO Regional Office for South East Asia, Singapore, 2015. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book. Globally, one third of births and two thirds of deaths are not registered. A well-functioning Civil Registration and Vital Statistics (CRVS) system is crucial for the continuous and universal recording of vital events registration, and the accurate compilation of a country's vital statistics. This Regional Strategy is a guideline focusing on strengthening the health sector's role using efficient and evidence-based methods. It is aligned with the three goals of the Regional Action Framework for CRVS in Asia and the Pacific, and the World Bank/WHO CRVS Scaling-Up Investment Plan 2015-2024. The five strategic areas of the Regional Strategy are: Strategic Area 1: Legal and organizational framework for CRVS; Strategic Area 2: Political commitment and intersectoral collaboration for national capacity-building, partnership, advocacy and outreach; Strategic Area 3: Birth and death registration - completeness and coverage; Strategic Area 4: Recording cause of death, ensuring completeness and quality; Strategic Area 5: Creating demand for health and vital statistics, enabling service delivery and planning through use in (a) evidence-based decision-making, and (b) linkages to other activities. Specific objectives and recommendations are detailed under each strategic...
