And thou wast but a breathing May Embodied by delicious dreams, And drifted o'er my wandering way On fancy's swift and shining streams. Thine eyes were only violets, Thy lips but buds of crimson bloom, Thy hair, coiled sunshine--vain regrets! Thy soul, a brief perfume. And when the time of mists and chills Fell where the sweet wild roses grew, And took them from the shadowy hills, It took my lovely vision too; And when I came again to find The charm which used to fill the air, A sorrow struck me mute and blind--Thou wast not anywhere! Yet something met me in thy place, Something, they said, with looks like thine, With tresses full of golden grace And lips flushed red with beauty's wine; A DISENCHANTMENT. With voice of silvery swells and falls And dreamy eyes...

Reviews

It is one of my personal favorite publications. It is actually really fascinating through reading through period of time. It has been printed in an extremely basic way in fact it is just after I finished reading through this ebook by which basically transformed me, change the way in my opinion.
