When do you think Allen will be back, Paul He ought to be back by two or three o'clock, Chet. His horse was fresh, and the roads are very good just now. I hope he brings good news, don't you I am tired of waiting here. We will have to content ourselves on the ranch another year, I am afraid. Father left matters in a very unsettled condition, and what has become of Uncle Barnaby the world only knows. I don't care so much about the dullness I like to hunt and fish and round up the cattle just as well as any one but what I'm complaining of is the uncertainty of the way things are going to turn. For all we know, we may be cast adrift, as the saying goes, any day. That is true, although I imagine our title to the ranch is O. K. If those title papers hadn't been burned up when one end of the house took fire I wouldn't worry a bit. This item ships from La Vergne, TN. Paperback.
