CreateSpace Independent Publishing Platform. Paperback. Condition: New. This item is printed on demand. 200 pages. Dimensions: 8.5in. x 5.5in. x 0.5in. The frustrated voices of the wife and the other woman. . . DEBRA: Alex is going to want me so bad tonight, Debra thought. She wanted him to see her the minute he opened in the door, hoping that he would take her right on the living room couch and fill her body with such intense pleasure she could shout his name until her voice went hoarse. Her phone lit up with a text message from Alex. Working late, can't make dinner tonight. Those six words made her furious. How could he! They had planned this date weeks ago. She doubted that he was actually working overtime. It was obvious that he prioritized whatever or whoever he was doing over Debra. DESTINY: At her high school graduation, Destiny was five months pregnant and very grateful that her baby bump didn't show through the gown. Eric was the only one who knew her secret, but he made it clear that he wanted her to take care of it. His reaction confused Destiny because when he was inside of her, he repeated, I love you, I want you for life, as if in a trance. When she gave birth to their son, he moved across the state to attend college at Western Michigan University and break free from his responsibilities. By the end of his freshman year, he had another pregnant girlfriend and failing grades. He dropped out of school and settled into life in Kalamazoo, Michigan with a job as an assistant manager at a department store. Eric's connection to their son was limited to meager child support checks and unsigned birthday cards. BOOK DESCRIPTION: On the outside looking in, Debra Anderson...
