Excerpt from Report of Progress in the Geological Resurvey of the Cripple Creek District, Colorado, 1904 The Cripple Creek gold deposits were discovered in 1891. Shortly afterwards, in 1894, an examination Of the new district was undertaken by the United States Geological Survey, Mr. Whitman Cross having charge of geology and petrography and Mr. R. A. F. Penrose, jr., undertaking the examination of the mines. Their report, accompanied by a geological map, was published in the Sixteenth Annual Report Of the Geological Survey, Part II, pages 1 - 207, and has for the last ten years served as a useful and accurate geological guide to mining operations. With the astonishingly rapid development of the Cripple Creek mines the opportunities for geological study multiplied, revealing great complexity of vein phenomena and stimulating a desire for fur ther investigation, particularly with a view of Obtaining some evidence as to the persistence of the veins In depth. This desire found expres sion in a request by citizens of Colorado for a reexamination Of the district by the United States Geological Survey and in an Offer of...
